Prada seeks to mend ties with India-made sandals

REUTERS
Mumbai/Milan, April 27

PRADA IS LAUNCHING a limited-edition range of India-made sandals inspired by traditional Kolhapuri footwear, less than a year after the Italian luxury group faced a backlash for showcasing similar designs without crediting their origins. Each pair will be priced at about ₹750 ($881), according to Prada's website. The launch follows controversy in June 2023, when Prada showed sandals resembling centuries-old Indian Kolhapuri chappals at a Milan fashion show. The designs sparked outrage among Indian artisans and politicians, who accused the brand of cultural appropriation. Prada later acknowledged the influence of ancient Indian styles and said it had begun talks with artists' groups about a collaboration. In December, Prada announced plans to produce 2,000 pairs of the sandals in the states of Maharashtra and Karnataka under agreements with two state-backed bodies, combining local craftsmanship with Italian technology. The sandals will be sold through 40 selected Prada stores worldwide and online, the company said in a statement on Monday. Prada also announced a three-year training programme for artisans from the eight districts in India traditionally associated with Kolhapuri sandal-making. The programme will be delivered by two leading Indian design institutes in structured six-month modules and is expected to reach 180 artisans, starting next month.

Coal India Q4 profit up 11% to ₹10,839 cr

STATE-OWNED CIL on Monday reported an 11.1% rise in consolidated net profit to ₹10,839.18 crore in the March quarter, driven by higher revenue. Coal India (CIL) logged a consolidated net profit of ₹9,751.64 crore in the year-ago period.

In a filing to the BSE, the Maharashtra firm said its revenue from operations rose to ₹46,490.03 crore from ₹43,961.56 in the corresponding quarter of the previous fiscal year. The consolidated expenses of the company during the fourth quarter of the previous fiscal year rose to ₹37,107.07 crore compared to ₹34,999 crore in the year-ago period, CIL said in a filing to the BSE. However, the company's net profit margin declined to ₹1,68,400.29 crore over ₹1,69,177.37 crore for the year ended March 31, 2025.

The revenue for 2025-26 marginally declined to ₹1,68,400.29 crore over ₹1,69,177.37 crore for the year ended March 31, 2025. The board of directors declared a final dividend of ₹5.25 per equity share for 2025-26 and added that the payment of final dividend for 2025-26 will be subject to approval of shareholders in the ensuing AGM. —PTI

Sun seals $11.75-billion deal for Organon

THE ACQUISITION WILL help Sun leverage Organon's portfolio of 70-plus products across women's health and general medicines, which would generate cash flows and help ease the debt burden. Thanks to the deal, analysts are expecting Organon's net debt-to-Ebitda ratio to go down sharply from 4.1 times currently to 1.6-1.7 times a year after the deal is concluded. Sun is expected to close the transaction by early 2027, subject to regulatory approvals and shareholder consent.

DEALS. Due to the sizeable debt, Organon didn't have the scope to cut manufacturing costs. But Sun could bring in cost synergies by shifting some of the manufacturing to India, especially for oral solids, said an analyst at a leading brokerage. According to a Macquarie analyst, the proposed acquisition supports Sun's strategy to expand in innovative drugs, which could mean up to 27% of the combined company's revenue. Sun would also become a stronger player in established brands/branded generics business with the deal, with entry into biosimilars as a top-10 global player, he added.

However, the real challenge is likely to begin after the deal with some experts flagging the possibility of integration issues. As per reports, Organon is already navigating substantial headwinds due to the loss of exclusivity on older legacy products and heightened competition in the biosimilars portfolio. It also witnessed governance concerns in 2025 following an internal probe that revealed improper sales practices for its flagship product Nexplanon. "Sun has to make sure that its existing business is not impacted because of this deal. But due to its reasonably well track record, Sun will be able to operational and regulatory concerns," said Manchanda.

Organon said if the deal is cancelled, it would pay a termination fee of $120 million to Sun.

Describing the deal as both a "happy" and "a bit anxious" moment, Sun Executive Chairman Dilip Shangkhi said that companies' acknowledged balance-sheet cost will not come at the cost of transformational opportunities. He said the current global turbulence may have created an opportunity for the company to do things which generally would be difficult to get if all times are normal.

The deal, according to analysts, could give the combined entity enough headroom to focus on growth areas. Further, Sun would be able to leverage Organon's strengths to enter into licensing deals. Due to the sizeable debt, Organon didn't have the scope to cut manufacturing costs.
